Subject: I'm thinking that our page will probably have to look like this page:

<http://www2.epa.gov/region8/bridger-pipeline-release>

This page is awful, but I just can't get anyone to help organize the info for me! ☺

<http://www2.epa.gov/region8/gold-king-mine-release-emergency-response>

Rich helped me greatly with organizing the Yellowstone River spill page, but everyone's been way too scattered to pay attention to the Web page for the current emergency. But the OSC page has LOTS of information on it (including tons of documents), and we fortunately do point to it:

http://www.epaosc.org/site/site_profile.aspx?site_id=11082

I just don't want to post ANYTHING without official approval from Paula or Lisa. Like you said on Saturday, it's always a "hurry up and wait and wait and WAIT" game when you're at the end of the line!! ☺

Cheers,

Tim
